VIETNAM

PEOPLE & HISTORY

The 54 ethnic groups that make up Vietnam's cultural composition are as varied as the country's landscape, with the majority residing in the mountainous northern and central regions.

Patriotism, self-reliance, the tradition of unity, and the desire to fight for the just cause of the nation have been the most essential characteristics and moral standards of the Vietnamese throughout its birth and evolution. There is a wealth of ancient history to be discovered.

VIETNAM

WHY VISIT ?

- Safe destinations with friendly and welcoming hospitality
- UNESCO World Heritage sites
- Breathtaking landscapes
- Rich diversity of culture, history, and tradition
- Delicious Vietnamese cuisine, with rice at its heart
- Diverse experiences tailored to travelers' interests (history & local tour, arts & craft, gastronomy, romance, family).
- Charming exotic villages
- Bustling, vibrant cities

A country full of history, an engaging place!

Motorbike

An official transport in Vietnam is MOTORBIKE. There are about 40 million motos for a population of 90 million people. And prepare yourself to see almost everything on them: 1,2 or 3 people at the same time, children, dogs, cages, refrigerators, bags,... They can carry everything on only one motor.

And to cross the street, the motto is KEEP GOING! just go!
They will deviate from you !

Vietnamese Hat

One of the most typical scenes of Vietnam is the Vietnamese hats. Every Vietnamese person uses it, either on the streets or in parks. They use it to protect themselves from the sun. Is impossible to go to Vietnam and come back without its traditional hat.

Vietnamese Traditional Dress

The traditional Vietnamese dress for women, "Ao dai", consists of a long robe (glued to the body) over pantaloon-style pants.

The specialty of the "Ao dai" is that it is a tight-fitting dress that magnifies the beautiful curves of a woman's body. The slits on both sides up to the waist create a charming and unique cut that is classically flattering.
